Subject: RE: Hydrotest Symposium Draft Agenda

Hi Shilpa- I've reached out to Sempra to confirm that they had no or insignificant hydrotesting or if they had any information they wanted to report. Having them involved would make it feel more balanced.

Having an independent expert on the welding or repair side is crucial to having this not be perceived as a PG&E show, so if that is really important.

Commissioner Florio is not available on 3/9, so that day is out. Right now, 3/2 looks like it is very likely (unlike this morning). Or else it will push to week of 3/12.

Can you remind me when PG&E's rebuttal testimony is due that will address the union issue?

Thanks.

Michelle

Subject: Hydrotest Symposium Draft Agenda

Michelle,

Attached is a draft agenda for the Second Hydrotest Symposium based on the conversations you have had with Trina and Laura. It covers the topic areas of hydrotesting and welding with time for questions from Commissioners, and has been modeled after the May 6, 2011 agenda. We also left room for Sunil to speak if he'd like to.

Laura's working on Nick's attendance, though I know he prefers March 9 over March 2. Kirk is also working on securing a welding expert.

We welcome your feedback.

Thanks.

Shilpa
