Yuliya...

Definitely. I'm CCing Meredith as she is really the best person to manage these kind of requests -- that's her job and she'll probably get back to you faster than me. I will coordinate with her and we'll get back to you in a few days after we track down the right person/projects.

PS Don't know @ the new email yet but I'm excited for it. I was jealous when the PUC fixed its email after I left and I was at the apparent last place doing hokey email addresses...

Subject: report on contract failure and delay

Hi Aaron,

We have a new intern, Rebekah Shirpley (CCed on this email), who is drafting a report on RPS contract failure and delay. I was hoping you could put her in touch with one of your contract managers who can spend about 30 minutes talking to her about development milestones as well as causes and frequency of contract failure.

She may include case studies of one to two notable failures or delays each utility has experienced so if PG&E has an example or two it can talk through with her, that'd be great. We are sticking with public information only so we have no need for confidential data.

Thanks in advance for your help,
Yuliya

P.S. Does the new aaron.johnson email address work?
