All,

This is a heads up on an event that occurred last night at a Marine base in Coleville, CA. According to the news report at the below link, there is one confirmed fatality and injuries related to a propane explosion; however, there are no details as to exactly where the leak occurred. Since this system appears to be located on a federal installation, we would believe this system is not jurisdictional to 192 or the CPUC. Nonetheless, GSRB will confirm more details as soon as we can.
