CLEAN COALITION'S MOTION FOR PARTY STATUS

Pursuant to the Commission Rules 1.4 and 11.1 of Practice and Procedure, the Clean Coalition respectfully moves for party status in this proceeding.

The Clean Coalition is a California-based advocacy group, part of Natural Capitalism Solutions, which is based in Colorado. The Clean Coalition's mission is to implement policies and programs that transition the world to cost-effective clean energy now, while delivering unparalleled economic benefits. To achieve this mission, the Clean Coalition advocates for vigorous feed-in tariffs and wholesale distributed generation, which is generation that connects primarily to distribution lines close to demand centers. The Clean Coalition has been active with the Long Term Procurement Plan (LTPP), and other renewable procurement proceedings that relate to transmission planning with the Commission as well as with the California Energy Commission, the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission and CAISO.

Service of notices, orders, and other communications and correspondence in the proceeding should be directed to the Clean Coalition at the address set forth below:
