Maybe 20? I would do each presentation as a separate document.

Thanks.

If it is delivered after 10:30, Aaron Pete can pick it up.

There is a slide changer, I'll ask about the laser pointer.

I envision folks sitting at the table, but if they are more comfortable at the podium, that is also fine. I'd have them sit at the table or front row for seating.

Good morning --

Jessica is putting the presentations on a flash drive and I'll be bringing them over later this morning. To whom should I deliver the device?

And, sorry to have to ask details like this, but how will folks change their slides and is there a laser pointer?

Do you envision a panel format, i.e., speakers all lined up at the table across the front? We will have 4 people: Nick, Ben, Kirk, Pierre. And JANX will have two.

Just trying to visualize it and make sure our team understands how this will work.

Thanks!

Laura
