For what it's worth, I think you're missing an opportunity to shape the initial reporting in a more positive (and more accurate) direction if you don't emphasize that this is shareholder money.

Paul,

The press release doesn't discuss the source of the $70 million, but the 8k is very clear: shareholders. I'll send you both when they're final.

Paul,

Please call as soon as you can. We're announcing an agreement with the City of San Bruno this morning to pay $70 million in restitution. This amount is in addition to a separate trust capped at $50 million. Please keep confidential until the press releases go out; the information is considered to be material insider info.
