Btw, we've had some updated on our RSVPs (people retiring, other work came up, vacations, etc). Here is the updated list:

Jane Yura (speaking/participating)

Bill Gibson (speaking/participating)

Frances Yee (listening)

Shilpa Ramaiya (listening)

Laura Doll (listening)

Steve Garber (listening)

Refinement of the process; the Commission adopted the ALJ resolution, and staff cannot make substantive changes to it for one year.

Yes, pretty much. Is what is being presented substantive in nature or more process changes? I guess that would determine whether we are able to comment quickly or not.

I realize it's difficult (impossible?) to comment on the procedures since we didn't circulate them in advance.

It may be a short day tomorrow.

Kevin,

Jane Yura may speak after y'all present, but we are not planning anything formal. It may just be questions during QandA.

Shilpa,

In your March 9 e-mail below, you mentioned that three of your colleagues may want to speak at tomorrow's meeting; please let me know if this is still a possibility.

If they want to hear what our management has to say first, I totally understand.

Thanks,

Kevin

Subject: PG&E's RSVP for March 27 Workshop

Kevin,

Thanks for taking time to explain the format of the workshop to me. I'd like to RSVP for the following folks from PG&E. I've also included their likely roles at the workshop.

Jane Yura (speaking/participating)

Frances Yee (speaking/participating)
Eugene Low (speaking/participating)

Larry Berg (listening)

Shilpa Ramaiya (listening)

Laura Doll (listening)

Let me know if you have any questions, and we look forward to a productive workshop.

Shilpa
