

From: Clanon, Paul
Sent: 5/29/2012 5:43:58 PM
To: Doll, Laura (/O=PG&E/OU=CORPORATE/CN=RECIPIENTS/CN=LRDD)
Cc:
Bcc:
Subject: Re: SB 705 Filing

Thanks.

On May 29, 2012, at 5:37 PM, "Doll, Laura" <LRDD@pge.com> wrote:

> So the answer is no, that we are not currently proposing a set of safety benchmarks. I may have mentioned that we asked for some direction on the plan but were told that wasn't expected to happen.

> I think we could put something together, and know it would happen if you asked.

>

> -----Original Message-----

> From: Clanon, Paul [<mailto:paul.clanon@cpuc.ca.gov>]

> Sent: Tuesday, May 29, 2012 3:02 PM

> To: Doll, Laura

> Subject: SB 705 Filing

>

> Will your guys be proposing a set of safety benchmarks? I'm thinking a short list of ten or so quantifiable things (% of piggable transmission pipes, things like that, I'm thinking) to compare operators to one another, and to see improvement by one operator over time.

>

> Kicking it around over here.