THE PUC’S INDEPENDENT REVIEW PANEL REPORT (IRPR) ISSUED IN JUNE 2011, ATTACHES AN APPENDIX G, WHICH APPEARS TO BE A PG&E DOCUMENT. THE FOLLOWING QUESTION ALL RELATE TO APPENDIX G.

QUESTION 22

Please describe and identify the specific “operational and technical trainings” that PG&E uses to prevent pipeline problems? Do these extend to non-employee workers?

ANSWER 22

PG&E interpreted this question broadly; all of PG&E’s gas school training courses can be said to prevent pipeline problems. As such, provided as GasPipelineSafetyOIR_LocalUnions246-342_002-Q22Atch01 is a listing of PG&E’s gas school training courses. Yes, these training courses do apply to non-employee workers. Any differences in training for non-employee workers are dependent upon contract terms established between PG&E and the third-party.
