That's hilarious!

So I am not watching TDF but I am fretting about Lance's latest challenge because I'm a huge Lance fan and I think those mean anti-doping people are out to get him . . .

I digress.

Are you going to NARUC? If so, we could talk there.

If not, how about later in the day next Wednesday?

I am a hard person to meet with before work since I run in the AM and Tour de France is on TV in the mornings right now but I would be happy to find time later in the day.
