Subject: RE: Contractor dig-ins

Love to meet with him after tomorrow.

My fingers are still crossed over here. So far not too bad, unless you're going by my blood pressure.

There's a fireworks display going on in my eye, which is a sign that things are starting to happen after the treatment. Go fireworks!

Good morning!

You emailed Brian last week about some dig-in data, I believe.

We have some info – how do you want to proceed? I would really like you to hear what Jesus has to say about this and some of the good ideas he has about how we all might address it.

Would you be willing to meet to talk with him? Do you prefer me to work through Julie/Sunil?

Hope this week is better in all ways.

Laura
