Re: Consumer Protection and Safety Division Testimony in Investigation 11-02-016

Dear Commissioner Florio and ALJ Yip-Kikugawa:

Today, the Consumer Protection and Safety Division (CPSD) is providing several items in the above-titled proceeding. Confidential items include: Rebuttal Testimony of Margaret Felts and Rebuttal Testimony of Paul Duller and Alison North. These items are being served on Commissioners, ALJ Yip-Kikugawa, PG&E and DRA. Flash drives containing exhibits referenced by the Felts and the Duller/North testimony are also being provided.

Rebuttal testimony of Julie Halligan is not confidential and is being served on all parties today. PG&E will review the confidential testimony and exhibits and propose redactions it believes necessary. As soon as the redaction process is completed, CPSD will serve the redacted testimony on all parties to this proceeding and will place the redacted exhibits on the Commission website:

Some additional PG&E data responses have arrived over the weekend and today. If necessary, based on review of this recent material, CPSD will seek permission to file supplemental testimony.

Very truly yours,

/s/ DARRYL J. GRUEN
