Yes, that would be great to start the conversation on capacity markets. I'm always curious why California needs one since our load forecast is pretty flat and that means 1 to 2 power plants every few years and also PG&E alone is a market in itself. Anyway, I would like to chat about it with whoever you have in mind.

Come as my guest.

If you want to talk capacity markets, the three IOUs are working with CAISO to develop one right now. Happy to have someone come in and chat about it.
