Diablo Canyon Nuclear Power Plant is back in operation following a shut down of Unit 2 on October 11.

Unit 2 at Pacific Gas and Electric Company's (PG&E) Diablo Canyon Power Plant returned to full power today at 12:11 a.m. following a safe shut down on October 11.

According to PG&E, Unit 2 was shut down due to an electrical disturbance in equipment that monitors electricity that flows into the state's power grid.
