Subject: Extension of Initial Suspension Period Advice 3304-G/4052-E

Dear [Redac] and Sid,

The energy Division suspended the Advice 3304-G/4052-E for 120 days beyond the originally requested effective date of June 30, 2012, to allow further review. This initial suspension period of 120 days maybe extended beyond 120 days with written agreement of the utility. The Energy Division still requires additional time for review of the AL in light of the additional information PG&E has provided us which we are still reviewing and we have not prepared a draft resolution for comment. In light of this it would be most expeditious if PG&E sends me an email today agreeing to extend the initial suspension period by 60 days beyond the initial extension of 120 days. That would extend the suspension from October 30th to December 30th. The Energy Division is very committed to completing its review of the AL.

Thank you for your cooperation and understanding.
