RESPONSE OF THE UTILITY REFORM NETWORK TO THE MOTION OF THE CONSUMER PROTECTION AND SAFETY DIVISION TO SUSPEND PROCEEDINGS

The Utility Reform Network ("TURN") hereby responds to the Motion of the Consumer Protection and Safety Division to Suspend Proceedings, In Order to Facilitate Negotiations Toward a Stipulated Outcome ("CPSD Motion).

TURN takes a neutral position regarding the CPSD Motion for the following reasons.

On the one hand, TURN is not convinced that the negotiations referenced in the CPSD Motion have made sufficient progress to warrant a suspension of the proceedings at this time. In this respect, TURN believes the motion is premature.

On the other hand are two countervailing considerations. First, one reason the parties may not have made sufficient progress in negotiations is that they have been consumed with the preparation for and conduct of litigation and have not been able to devote time to intensive negotiations. Second, TURN believes that there is at least the possibility of a multi-party settlement of these cases.

While TURN neither endorses nor opposes the CPSD motion, if the motion is granted, TURN urges the Commission to prevent unnecessary delays in these proceedings in the event the negotiations do not appear to be leading to a settlement. To that end, TURN strongly recommends that the Commission direct the parties to appear at a Commission hearing no later than October 22, 2012 to report on the status of the negotiations. Unless the parties report that they are making progress toward a settlement, the Commission at that time should lift the suspension and set dates for the conclusion of hearings, briefing and other related events.
