I genuinely can't claim much of the credit, but thanks so much!

Michael --

Thank you, I will.

Today I had the chance again and again to remark on the contrast between this process and the last one. Congrats to you as well.

Here's the most recent version of Ferron's remarks that I have – he probably continued to tweak it slightly on the dais (he edits in real time) but this is very close.

Please pass along my congratulations to the entire team.

Hahaha! Nice try, but you'll never be able to trick me into underestimating you.

Thank you guys as well – I know how hard you all worked to make this happen... I'd forward them to you, but there's that lie in there about me being intellectually sharp and I can't have that be spread around.....

Michael –

Thanks so much for all of your hard work on this, we really appreciate it on this end. Fast is such a rare thing!

Can you send me Cmmr Ferron's comments from the dais, I want to make sure that our folks get the message. Thanks!
