I think so. Tuesday and Wednesday are wide open that week. And I'm happy to come to your office too!

Yes! Oh, this is exciting. So are you thinking the week of Feb 4 is the safest one?

Subject: following up

Hello there, I'm following up on our quick curbside conversation regarding the customer engagement paper. Internal comments are due on the paper tomorrow so if there are no real objections from the energy division, it could be released as early as Friday, or the following week. Do you want to set up a meeting for the following week to be sure the paper is out? Let me know what works for you.

Look forward to chatting, Kristin
