Hi - No worries Laura, my schedule has just been ridiculous, and the flu made it worse. I am feeling much better thanks. I will check my schedule for next Tues - Thursday when I am in the office and see what looks good.

Julie

You must dread seeing emails from me . . . but I'm circling back to see if Jane and I can get some time with you to talk about the encroachment plan next steps/wrap-up (me being optimistic).

You may still be out sick, but I thought I'd keep checking in to see if you can see ahead enough to get something on the calendar.

I sure hope you are feeling better. This month seems to have been one of the worst health-wise for so many people.
