Subject: RE: Replacement power estimates

The replacement power costs varied month by month during 2012, but the total for the year was $175 million for SCE. Keep in mind SCE owns 80% of SONGS, and this information is just SCE's cost. There was a low of $4.4 million in January 2012 to a high of $27.5 million in August 2012.

Thanks, Eric.

John or [Reda] Is there a $/MWh or other number that we can provide the committee with some authority?

As part of the CPUC Oder Instituting Investigation into SONGS outages, SCE and SDG&E provided us with replacement power costs during 2012 to make up the loss of the approximate 2200 MW from SONGS not operating during 2012. The appropriate source of information for expected replacement costs during extended outages would be directly from the utilities.

Eric, John and [Redact]

The State Water Board's "nuclear review committee" empaneled under its once-through-cooling policy, is asking for a CPUC-sanctioned replacement power cost, or the process for determining same, during any period of outage for retrofit from OTC. Would one of you be able to point me to an individual or resource to determine that answer?
