Subject: Re: R.12-06-013: Request for Extension

Marcel- PG&E opposes TURN's request for a one month extension of the entire schedule. The May, 2013 schedule for filing rate proposals has been known since the scoping memo was issued on November 26 of last year, 3 months ago. PG&E would support a two-week extension of the May 1 rate proposal filing date to May 15 to allow parties additional time to incorporate the final results of the customer survey into their proposals. However, PG&E opposes any additional extension of the rest of the schedule.

Thanks, and feel free to call if you would like to discuss further.

Good question. TURN proposes that the entire schedule be postponed by one month. Given the need to analyze other parties' proposals, I am presently not inclined to shorten the time between proposals and comments.

Marcel,

It would be helpful to know what you would propose to do with the remainder of the adopted schedule, assuming a four-week extension for the rate design proposals.

Subject: R.12-06-013: Request for Extension

To: Representatives of Active Parties in R.12-06-013

On May 19 the ALJ issued a Ruling setting May 1 as the due date for rate design proposals, with comments on proposals due June 3. TURN will likely request an extension of these deadlines. The current schedule does not provide sufficient time to a) run the bill calculators, and b) obtain bill impact analyses directly from utilities for rate design options not supported by the calculators. Additionally, TURN faces other procedural deadlines which limit our work on these issues. TURN will seek an extension of four weeks.

Pursuant to Rule 11.6 TURN seeks input from the 'active' parties concerning your position on the extension request. Please let me know by COB this Friday, if you a) support the proposed extension, b) oppose the proposed extension, c) are neutral, or d) support an extension for a different time period.

Thank you in advance for your responses.
