Subject: Re: FW: CPUC Natural Gas Safety Symposium Invitation and Agenda

Laura,

I just registered for the symposium and made my reservation at the Marines Memorial Hotel for that Tuesday night. I will be driving from Monterey, CA.

Thank you for your hospitality. I am looking forward to the symposium.

I'm following up on your previous communications with General Jack Hagan about the upcoming CPUC Safety Symposium May 7 & 8 in San Francisco. I hope you received the invitation (below and attached) last week from the CPUC, and I hope you have had an opportunity to register on-line. There is a link in the attachment to this email. As everything is paperless for this event, we really need the digital registration list for an accurate headcount.

The combined gas utilities will be paying your expenses (PG&E, Southern California Gas, and Southwest Gas Corp) and PG&E will coordinate the payment. It is easiest for us if you make your own arrangements: air (which I assume you do not need), hotel, etc. Keep receipts and then submit them via invoice afterward, through me, and we will get you reimbursed.

You may stay anywhere you like. The Marine's Memorial Club has some rooms available, and that might be a good location for you as the Tuesday night dinner is there and it's conveniently located. Just contact them directly at 1.800.562.7463, or at www.marineclub.com. We'll be paying for the Tuesday night dinner directly, but there is a cash bar beforehand. All other meals will be on your own, and we will reimburse you for reasonable charges (which I have no doubt you are used to!)

Peter Goelz, who's copied on this email, will be in touch with you about the panel format and questions to focus the discussion. The plan for your panel is that Alaska Air will open the discussion with about a 20 minute presentation of their transformation, and then panelists will speak for about 10 minutes each before we open it to questions.

Again, we look forward to your participation.

Laura
