Let me do some outreach to my LOBs and some people here to find out.

Sujata I've ccd you in case you've seen this chart for other months in the year?

Ill reach out to Customer Care as we've had discussions with them and they asked this same question of EP, so there may be a comparable chart out there for other months. I'd like to see what August looks like myself.

Has PGE put together or can PGE put together charts that show forecasted net load for the other months of the year?The duck chart is for March, I want to understand the bigger picture beyond March.
Thanks.
