Going to get you some agenda stuff later, but could you email these three fire people?
tonya.hoover@fire.ca.gov
Mike.Richwine@fire.ca.gov
mark.ghilarducci@calema.ca.gov

Thank you!

Below are contacts from Tim for the State Fire Marshal and all.

Thanks. Bob

Here are the three officials in California. The hazardous liquid pipelines in CA are regulated by the state fire marshal, which is the reason they should be included. We are also trying to include the emergency managers with regard to emergency response. You may also want to reach out to the PSAP (911 centers) folks as well. I am not sure if there is a state agency that represents them. APCO and the National Emergency Number Association are the two national groups. APCO's site lists a state POC: http://apcointl.org/about-apco/apco-people/executive-council.html
