☺

To answer your question. It is $5,000 for unlimited use. Other registration websites include:

Eventbrite

Acteva

But there are lots out there!

Have a good day!

Seriously, you would even consider “other events”???

Great job of getting this through the mire yesterday.

I like it. Do you know the cost of it? Just checking in case we want to use it for other events.

This has been fixed. That is the great thing about this website is that we can make changes and they are immediate.

The good news is that the invitations went out! Yay Terrie!!

But the registration confirmation sheet still says “insert correct registration site” here or something like that.

Is there any way to fix that?

Hello,

Attached please find an invitation to a Natural Gas Safety Symposium from Brigadier General (CA) Jack Hagan, Director of the California Public Utilities Commission's Safety and Enforcement Division.

The Symposium, titled Forging a New Vision of Safety in California, is May 7-8, 2013, in San Francisco. The attached letter of invitation and agenda provide more information, including how to register.

Thank you, and please let me know if you have any questions.
