Thanks for the very good work and the positive report. What is needed at this point is for Bradford to talk to the Speaker and insist that the language stopping the project be dropped from the Assembly Energy Trailer Bill. That message should be delivered to the Speaker early next week. Bradford should let Gwen know the reaction and Bradford should continue to push the Speaker to have the language deleted until the Speaker agrees.

Let me know the results. This could be very helpful. Don't hesitate to give me a call if I can help out here in any way.

Best

[Reda] and Brian,

Per Peevey's suggestion, I followed up with Gwen Moore and Steve Bradford regarding the trailer bill language on the Assembly side. Bradford is quite supportive of CES-21 and will chat with Peevey regarding the best way to handle this issue. We have a meeting scheduled with Peevey on June 10th to follow up.

Additionally, we returned from the Deloitte Energy Conference ("Innovation: Changing the Future of Energy") this week where we had the opportunity to meet with individuals who mentioned their interest and capabilities in CES-21. Specifically, we had discussions with:

- Dr. Tom Mason, Director, Oak Ridge National Laboratory - HPC expertise
- Dr. Charles McMillian, Director, Los Alamos National Laboratory - general cyber security expertise
- General Harry Raduege, Chairman, Center for Cyber Innovation at Deloitte-expertise in cyber security issues specific to the utility sector (formally managed DoD cyber security efforts worldwide)

Best regards,
Will

Hi Mike,

It was great seeing you at the Commissioner Peterman Reception and chatting with you and Gwen about the Assembly Staff proposing similar language regarding CES-21 in the budget trailer bill as that which is on the Senate side. As you suggested, Gwen spoke to Steve Bradford about it and Steve is quite supportive of CES-21. Steve mentioned that he would give you a call to further discuss the issue or you could feel free to give him a call on his cell phone.

Best regards,
Will
