Audrey,

We look forward to helping you in anyway. Just let me or Mona Tierney-Lloyd of EnerNOC know if the DR Collaborative can help you get up to speed.

Thanks,

I'm sorry to have missed the meeting last week. I've been getting up to speed with Matthew, Brian, and the staff here and I look forward to working with the DR Collaborative. It sounds like Matthew's memo will be extremely helpful.

Thanks,

Audrey

Thanks so much for your feedback. I really appreciate the constructive engagement of this group.

I'm glad to hear the list of questions is relatively complete. Now I will recommend some prioritization of those questions with a schedule. Your feedback has helped shape my perspective on that next steps.

I appreciate also your pointing me to these studies. I doubt I will have a chance to review them in detail in the next few days, but will append them to my memo so that available resources available are accessible and consolidated.

Best,

Matthew

Hi Matthew and Brian,

Thank you very much for taking the time to meet with the DR Collaborative on May 14. Matthew must be quite busy preparing for the leave of absence so it is much appreciated.

PG&E took a look at your list of questions and it looks like you have all of the bases covered. We did insert brief responses to a few questions that pertain to items that are of fundamental importance to us and the DR Collaborative. But this is a PG&E only mark-up. If you have any questions, please let us know.

In addition, you asked about DR potential studies, we have attached two recent DR potential studies. The one in the zip file is a 2009 DR potential study that was put together for the FERC. One of the PDF files is an April 2012 update of the 2009 FERC study. The other PDF file is a 2012 study for the LBNL by the Brattle Group. It is our understanding that this Brattle group study is the latest DR potential study for California.

Again, thank you for meeting with us the other day. If we can be of any assistance to you, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Best regards,
