Subject: Thank You!

Laura and [Redac]

Thank you both for such a lovely evening last night. It was a treat to finally meet [Redac] I very much love love love your place and can understand how you're so happy there. The chicken was delicious and that blueberry crumble was the perfect mix of sweet and tart. To show you that I am not lying, I took a picture of my Mangold print this morning (see attached). And by the way, the movie is a must see. I don't know if you need to see it on the big screen or if you wall want to wait until it comes out on Netflix, but it was an excellent cap to a lovely evening.

Thank you both again - look forward to hosting you all next!

Michael
