The sienna is incredible! So many buttons. R and the kids loooove it. 2007 was the right year. Full air bags, towing package standard, and the new engine (3.5 with variable timing, very cool). I like the 2nd gen better than 3rd. And it's pearl white. Woot!

Thanks for the reminder -- needed it today.

Wow, that was fast! 2007 was a good year. Excellent choice. I had a dream about the Sienna a few nights ago -- we had one again and I was super stoked. You guys are gonna love it!

As for the meaninglessness -- I hear ya ... but when it gets you down, pull up your investment portfolio. You're buying a lot for your family with a few hours of silly Helen-ness. You aren't gonna be doing that drek forever.

Is getting me down today. I'm at Helen's quarterly directors' meeting. Good news -- we got a 2007 Sienna on the higher end of the xle. Woot!
