Hi Amy,

Thanks for sending. Did this happen this week? I'm checking with Steve on where he is on the items we discussed earlier this week and will let you know the steps we are taking. This should not be happening.

Thanks,
Meredith

Hi Meredith,

Here's a note from our consultant:

"The PG&E line crew plans the needed clearances weeks in advance, but did not pass on the information to PG&E's environmental team until the day before. There seems to still be a disconnect between the line crew and the environmental monitors (Insignia). This has not really come across in the discussions with PG&E."
