Hi Laura - Option 2 sounds best given the circumstances. Let's reschedule for another date either next week or in August.

Ken

It occurs to me (albeit a bit belatedly) that you are likely more interested in our overall asset management/risk assessment program than you are in our R&D program. Is that correct?

I was focused on your specific request to talk with [Redacted] after the slide in his R&D presentation when we were all in San Ramon several weeks ago. [Redacted] has returned from vacation and is available tomorrow, but now I am rethinking whether I have the right people for the meeting.

I was thinking that [Redacted] who manages our overall gas ops risk register would be a good resource person for you and your team to talk with. He is NOT available tomorrow, but could be available next week.

Let me know your preference: (1) stay with tomorrow's meeting with [Redacted] and me; (2) cancel tomorrow and reschedule when we can have both [Redacted] of (3) talk with [Redacted] tomorrow and [Redacted] at a later time.

I don't seem to have your phone number of else I'd call you!

Let me know.

Thanks

Laura
