Thanks Kristin. In this world of email communications, these things happen.

Good weekend everybody.

Me again, I apologize profusely to Sempra, this document should not have been circulated. Please do me a favor and delete it immediately from your email. Again, my apologies to Juancho. Thanks, Kristin.

Subject: The Table

Hi all, attached is a copy of the table that Sempra put together for our discussion regarding the utility business model of the future. As discussed at our meetings, we would like to have each of you do your own, and please add a fourth column for the 2030+ timeframe. Would be great if we can get these all by July 29th. If you all think a meeting to jointly discuss them would be helpful, I'm happy to organize that.

Thanks, Kristin.
