MC is trying to analyze some sample data to look at variation from month to month or day to day.

Would you be willing to share your energy consumption data with her? I only have a few months of data since I just moved into a new house, so it might not be that useful. Mine's on content server if you want to see it.

I'm sure she'd be happy to sign an NDA if you want one!

Carol, we can help you download it through Green Button on the PG&E webpage.
