Darn. I have to miss the event tonight. After driving to and from the South Bay twice in the last two days, I have to catch up with work! I was supposed to stay down there last night and would have had a chance to catch up, but instead discovered my hotel was between a Taco Bell and a Bail Bonds place. Decided to drive home instead and go back this morning. Six hours in the car the last two days...

Hi ladies,

With regrets, I think I am going to skip out on the event tonight. Too much agenda review work to catch up on and no time between now and tomorrow afternoon to do it except tonight. I can't even guarantee I'll be ready tomorrow, but at least I have a better chance. Enjoy the event. It's a good group of women. Say hi to everyone for me.

Julie
