Brian: I understand the elected San Mateo County Sheriff Greg Munks, who oversees the patrol services and the captain serving San Carlos, will call Brian Turner to advise him on his organization's positive working relationship with PG&E over the years especially when it comes to emergency preparedness and response. I understand that the Sheriff was not in agreement with what his Captain may have said to Turner and he wanted to clarify the record. Additionally, the SM Sheriff also oversees the County's Office of Emergency Response.

I think he may call today. If they don't connect, Brian can also call Sheriff Munks at 650-599-1664.

For Fire, the City of San Carlos fire services is provided by the Redwood City Fire Department. We have worked closely over the years since San Bruno to have joint training activities on gas issues and emergency preparedness. The Public Safety team from Gas Ops in conjunction to the local team has facilitated most of the above the activities. If needed, we can provide actual dates and specific trainings.

Thanks

Travis
