2. The observation of the non-compliant nondestructive testing occurred on a project in Brentwood on Line 114.
3. On April 1, 2013, PG&E sent a letter to the company contracted to perform nondestructive examination, notifying them that all further work by the contractor has been terminated.
4. Subsequently, PG&E re-validated all welds on Line 114 to ensure their safety. This PG&E work has been reviewed by SED and SED currently has no outstanding concerns.
5. In the immediate aftermath of observations made on March 26, 2013, PG&E began an extensive review of other work performed by the nondestructive testing contractor.
6. PG&E review of contractor's previous work identified 224 nondestructive tests that were not in compliance with applicable codes and standards. Specifically, the welds had incomplete radiographic coverage which did not cover the entire circumference of the weld.
