Subject: Smart Meters

Hi PG&E,

We're getting calls from anti smart meter residents claiming that we are granting "waivers". We are being told that PG&E's customer service department is informing customers to ask the PUC to grant a waiver from the $75 one-time and $10 monthly opt-out imposed fees. Why is PG&E telling customers this? This is not true, obviously. The Commission is in the process of drafting a decision on the opt-out matters, but we are not granting individual waivers. Either customers are confused by the way PG&E customer representatives are communicating the fact that a decision is due to deal with this matter once and for all or the PG&E customer representatives are confused themselves and spreading mis-information. In either case, we need to resolve this matter at your end. Please let us know what we can do to help and also how you will resolve this.

Regards,

marzia
