Subject: Are you Available for dinner or coffee on Nov. 7?

Tom and Brian, Are you available for dinner or coffee on Nov. 7 after the CPUC en banc? I have a meeting after the en banc and will be available after 5:00 pm. Sandra Goeken Miles, a woman-owned CPUC Clearinghouse certified energy solutions business, GoGreen, and CEO of LED manufacturer and designer Polybrite, is visiting from Chicago and she'll be at the en banc. Sandy is also presenting at the CPUC Living Pilot Symposium on Wednesday about her MOU with SDG&E to install battery back-up in LED streetlights to create dispatchable Demand Response. She also manufactures LED flat panels, tubes, and bulbs, and is working with a storage partner Don Nissanka of Exergonix based in Kansas City. Sandy served on the FCC's Small Business Advisory Committee when I was the Director of the FCC's Business Opportunities Office in the mid-late-1990's. Sandy and her dad, Jack Goeken, founded Polybrite and began LED manufacturing 18 years ago, and founded MCI, In-Flight Phone, the FTD Floral Network, and other businesses. Margarita Colmenares is working with Sandy on GoGreen and is based in and hails from Sacramento. I've also known Margarita since the mid-90's. Margarita is an engineer, Stanford grad, and former White House fellow. Please let me know if you have time for coffee or dinner on Thursday evening after the en banc. We'll pick a convenient location. Thanks, Cathy
