FYI. We get much more credit than we deserve. If we were only so smart and calculating.

The Chronicle posted the following story this evening, appearing in tomorrow's paper (top of fold Business section).

<http://www.sfgate.com/bayarea/article/Commission-returns-PG-amp-E-fine-amid-San-Bruno-5087048.php>

The story questions SED's rationale for returning the citation payment.

We deferred to the PUC to address why the payment was returned as we have no clear rationale from the commission.

Nick, Jesus,

Jaxon is writing a story tonight (for tomorrow's Business section) about the SED returning the $375,000 for the December 3 citation.

We have referred Jaxon to the CPUC as it was an SED decision to send back the check.

We don't have any more information about why the SED chose to return the payment. The letter from the SED to Jane is attached.

Will monitor for coverage and pass along the story when it posts online.

All,

Today SED withdrew their previous citation of PG&E's OM&E audit. There is not a clear explanation of why, but I wanted to keep you up to date.
