Subject: RE: Cold weather update for PGE gas system

Laura,

Instead of copying Sunil, can you please copy Mike Robertson. I'd like for any notes from utilities to be going through SED management rather than Engineers.

Thanks,

Liza

Subject: Cold weather update for PGE gas system

The cold weather continues and non-core curtailments are scheduled for tomorrow at least.

Here is the latest update:

"Given the current cold weather conditions, we will be curtailing noncore customers for Monday, Dec 9, 2013, in the following curtailment zones:

1. Angwin – 1 customer
2. Auburn – 10 customers
3. Yuba City – 30 customers
4. North Sacramento – 19 customers
5. Los Banos – 1 customer

This is the final list of curtailments for Monday. The curtailments will commence at midnight (0:00 Dec 9, 2013). The attached spreadsheet provides the allowable burn rates for customers impacted."
