Oh, and in the CPUC's new safety culture, we just had a fire-drill. The "safety team" is having a debrief in the auditorium. How do I know? Because I just heard the announcement on the PA system requesting the safety team to show up.

As I understand it, think they still don't have a plan for folks in wheelchairs. That sucking sound you hear isn't NAFTA.

What the heck is wrong with Bart? They seem to have a major failure once a week!
