Subject: Re: Paycheck Release Time

The state is cracking down on "early release" as it is a "theft of state resources."

Our media has become some incapable of reporting on real theft, that these things are what's left to rake the muck, so management responds by making life rigid and silly.

I love these. I also loved it when the navajo president would release us for a day of prayer or an early start on a long weekend. Hilarious.
