Near electric vault, not "gas vault" as is being reported. It is a distribution line.

They will first stop the flow of gas and then figure out what happened.

Subject: CPUC Reportable Gas Incident - Golf Links Road, Oakland

All,

At approximately 0839 hours on December 10, 2013, PG&E was notified of a gas fire in or near an electric vault at [Redacted] in Oakland. Personnel was on site at 0844 hours. At this writing the cause is still undetermined and gas is estimated to be shut in at 1100 hours. Once the gas is shut-in the investigation of the cause will begin. There are no injuries or fatalities and damages are less than $50,000. This is reportable due to the presence of major Bay Area media on site.

Please let me know if you have any questions,
