Ahh... Thanks for letting me know. I ended up getting an EV myself as a birthday gift and was going to drive it up and charge up there. Thanks for the info! (I got the Fiat 500e which was featured in the NY Times yesterday – adorable little city car!)

FYI. We have stations at the San Ramon Conference Center located a few miles away but none at Gas Control yet. Ugh.

Apparently there are plans to install something at BR but nothing is there yet.

Surprising, actually.
