For example, as we know, light bulbs have gotten more expensive as they have changed in technology. At the same time, the amount of energy they consume has declined. And the price customers pay for the electric energy itself has increased. So, counting all three factors, has the cost of the lighting service we consume risen or declined? This question can be asked about almost any energy related subject.

> Yes, I am also looking into sources internal to the CPUC and at the CEC. But I do not want to lose the perspective that could be gained from hearing from you and from PG&E.
