Julie –

I think this will be less useful than I was hoping – it's more their impression of us. It might be useful for contacts.

Take care!

yours, sid

Get over to EP as well. I think Redacted presented to this group and maybe others did to. Peter?

Dear DR friends,

The German delegation we hosted for a one-day workshop on DR in California just sent the final report they will be publishing in a German energy policy journal. It is a quick and interesting read. Enjoy!

Happy Weekend!

Dear Redacted

We would like to thank you again for hosting the Demand Response Workshop on October 15th. Also, we wanted to let you know that we have taken up your valuable inputs and comments and have written a working paper about our findings. The English version was published by our institute on the IASS website - here is the link: <http://www.iass-potsdam.de/publications/iass-series/working-papers>

The German version will be published in April by a national journal on energy policy.

At the moment I am working on a paper about demand response integration in the other US electricity markets. I will be in touch with you later in the process.

We are looking forward to future collaborations and staying in touch with you.

Best,

Alexandra, Dominik, Steffen and Benjamin
