Sure, but not that long. A few hours should do. This is about a transmission line that want to build from Moraga to SF, overhead in part, and then underground down Broadway in Oakland and then under the Bay. I told them overhead from Moraga to Broadway was probably a non-starter, going through the Oakland hills, and so forth. They want me to see if for myself.

Sally called from PG&E and wondered if you wanted to go on a tour – all afternoon 12-5:30 – on Wed May 14 – day before our next commission meeting

Tour: Moraga-Potrero. That is all she knew – I have no idea what it is about -
