

From: Doll, Laura
Sent: 4/9/2014 4:18:01 PM
To: Colvin, Michael (michael.colvin@cpuc.ca.gov)
Cc:
Bcc:
Subject: RE: Goldman Environmental Prize on 4/28

I'll sit anywhere! And would love that.

From: Colvin, Michael [mailto:michael.colvin@cpuc.ca.gov]
Sent: Wednesday, April 09, 2014 3:43 PM
To: Doll, Laura
Subject: RE: Goldman Environmental Prize on 4/28

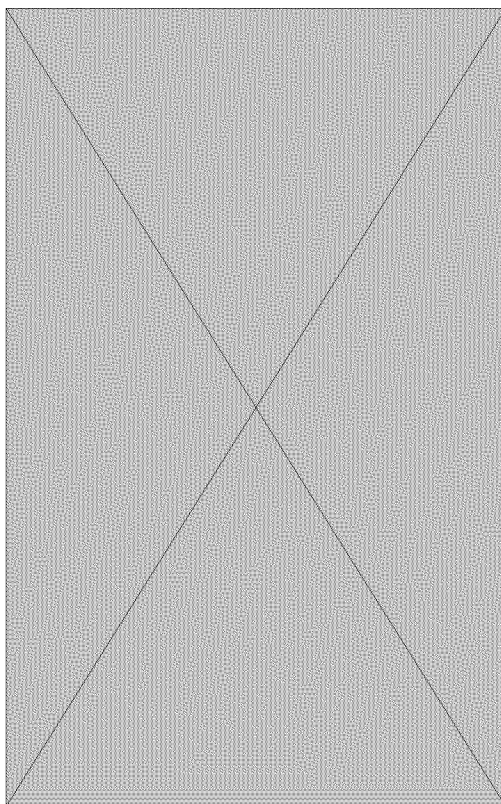

Excellent idea. I just spoke to the box office. It's assigned seating – neither seat on either side of your ticket is available. Would you be okay if we got you a new seat as well so we could sit next to each other? If I recall correctly, you prefer to sit in the aisle, correct?

Michael

From: Doll, Laura [mailto:LRDD@pge.com]
Sent: Wednesday, April 09, 2014 2:21 PM
To: Colvin, Michael
Subject: RE: Goldman Environmental Prize on 4/28

Hey – what about dinner on the 24th and then going with me to the Sibley lecture at JCCSF?
Forgot I have a ticket to this!

The Sibley Guide's David Allen Sibley

Our community partners for this event are the Bay Area Open Space Council, Golden Gate Audubon Society, Oakland Zoo, Presidio Trust, San Francisco Zoo, Sierra Club and Wildcare Bay Area.

Birding

Birding, as ornithologist David Allen Sibley describes it, is "an interplay of detail and gestalt." Birders consider his Guide to Birds, which has been flying off the shelves for more than a dozen years, the Bible of bird taxonomy. So his just released Second Edition, with new illustrations and maps, is cause for celebration for the veteran and novice birders among us.

"Once in a great while, a natural history book changes the way people look at the world. In 1838, John James Audubon's Birds of America was one. In 1934, Roger Tory Peterson produced Field Guide to the Birds. Now comes The Sibley Guide to Birds."

— New York Times

From: Colvin, Michael [<mailto:michael.colvin@cpuc.ca.gov>]

Sent: Wednesday, April 09, 2014 1:22 PM

To: Doll, Laura

Subject: RE: Goldman Environmental Prize on 4/28

Not a fret. I just thought you'd enjoy. I get tickets every year so we can go in the future.

Dinner would be lovely. I'm going to Phoenix next week so maybe the week of the 21st? what dates are good for you? I tried to get the two of us to have dinner with Delaney last time she was in town, but for some reason she had to "jet" home...

Michael

From: Doll, Laura [<mailto:LRDD@pge.com>]
Sent: Wednesday, April 09, 2014 12:21 PM
To: Colvin, Michael
Subject: RE: Goldman Environmental Prize on 4/28

Oh Michael – what a truly wonderful invitation, made more special by the prospect of meeting your father!

But alas, I am already committed to a Leadership California event that evening. Tried to get out of it but can't.

I can't wait to hear about it. When can we get together next for something??

Perhaps dinner at that place on the Embarcadero?

From: Colvin, Michael [<mailto:michael.colvin@cpuc.ca.gov>]
Sent: Tuesday, April 08, 2014 10:55 AM
To: Doll, Laura
Subject: Goldman Environmental Prize on 4/28

Hi Laura

I think that I will have some extra tickets to the Goldman Environmental Awards on Monday, April 28th. In case you're not familiar, the Goldman Prize is akin to the Nobel prize for environmental grassroots activism. The premise is that one person can make a difference. If you're available, I'd love for you to join me as a guest. (My father Andy will be there as well, so you can meet an actual smart Colvin!)

The award ceremony is at the Opera House. Doors open at 4:45 and the ceremony start at 5:30.

More info on the history of the prize, etc. <http://www.goldmanprize.org/>

Michael

Michael Colvin

California Public Utilities Commission

(415) 355-5484

michael.colvin@cpuc.ca.gov

PG&E is committed to protecting our customers' privacy.

To learn more, please visit <http://www.pge.com/about/company/privacy/customer/>

PG&E is committed to protecting our customers' privacy.

To learn more, please visit <http://www.pge.com/about/company/privacy/customer/>

