Hi Laura,

The current plan is to share the info publically but not mention any company names. It's for everyone's information to see what's out there.

Hi Chuck –

I know you remember all that info we sent you recently about leak repairs.

You mentioned that you are getting it from the other utilities as well.

The team here is wondering if you'll be in a position to share that info at some point?

As I recalled, you mentioned you were doing some kind of report/whitepaper? Comparative data is always very helpful to us, of course, so we're interested in what's sharable.

Thanks!

Missed you today.

Laura
