

From: Jon Kaufman
Sent: 5/27/2014 11:43:16 AM
To: peter fatooh (pfatooh@sbcglobal.net)
Cc: [Redacted] tney [Redacted] n);
[Redacted] cathy
(cathy@leadershipstudio.com); Paul Denning
(pdenning@denningandcompany.com); Derek Hobbs (dhobbs@eyhadvisors.com);
[Redacted] carol.brown (carol.brown@cpuc.ca.gov);
Dale Milfay (dalemilfay@sbcglobal.net); Cherry, Brian K
(/O=PG&E/OU=CORPORATE/CN=RECIPIENTS/CN=BKC7); [Redacted]
[Redacted] [Redacted] plevine [Redacted]
(plevine@vencoa.com); [Redacted]; Muir Mike (muir@amhcmail.com); Michael.peevey (Michael.peevey@sbcglobal.net); Don Solem (dons@solem.com); Linda Muir (lmuir@mindspring.com); [Redacted]
[Redacted]

Bcc:

Subject: Re: run for the hills! 5-26

Peter, et al:

You should try Shorty Goldstein's deli at 126 Sutter Street. Been open a year or so, excellent fare.

Jon Kaufman

On May 27, 2014, at 6:58 AM, peter fatooh <pfatooh@sbcglobal.net> wrote:

Geoff: There has been a shrinkage of 'good delis' in SF in the past 20 years....Lucca's at 20th and Valencia....Molinari's on Columbus.....where are the Carnegie Deli's out here????.....the SF pc food police may ban a Carnegie's!!!.....hate to say it, but I don't think Original Joe's food is as good as it was on Taylor St....Marin Joe's still very good....nothing close has replaced Bruno's.....the foregoing may lead to DR reconsidering relocation!!!!....pf....btw, can someone tell me how any quality fish dish served in the up-scale (no pun intended) SF restaurants can possibly be served without a lemon wedge or two?????.....

On Tuesday, May 27, 2014 12:19 AM, [Redacted] wrote:

Have you found him a good deli? As essential as getting Phil and Big Louie to lunch in their day.

Sent from my iPad

On May 26, 2014, at 10:39 PM, peter fatooh <pfatooh@sbcglobal.net> wrote:

WELCOME HOME!.....

Redacted

R e d

a c t

we're here!

Redacted

denise tyrrell

Redacted

s.f., cal. 94118

Redacted

no landline

there goes the neighborhood!

dan